I'm passionate about animal welfare, the nonprofit that I support and giving back to the community we are assisting, and health and fitness. I live in Richmond, Virginia and enjoy outdoor activities like hiking, kayaking, stand up paddleboarding, and more. I always make it a point to try and find the best vegan food in any city I visit. The area of my work that I enjoy the most is connecting with people and supporting their growth and development. The most rewarding aspect of working at BlueLion is seeing the meaningful impact we have on businesses and their people. We help solve problems, improve processes, and supporting both businesses and employees through complex and challenging situations.
